A Concert to Benefit

Ken Bonfield from Magnolia, MA is a nationally recognized guitarist and composer. Ken tours nationally and his music has been heard on NPR and PBS. Known for his left of center wit, his performances are described as Leo Kotke meets Ed Gerhard on the way to a Bill Cosby concert.

Steve Davison from Little Rock performs original instrumental compositions on the six and 12 string guitar. He was the solo competition winner in the 2005 Arkansas Acoustic Festival and has been a featured artist on AETN Presents. He has opened for artists such as Richard Thompson and Emily Kaitz and has performed at Acoustic Sounds Café, Riverfest and other acoustic venues around the state.

Danny Dozier from Batesville, AR is a multi-talented guitarist and winner of the Merle Travis Fingerstyle Guitar competition in Mt. View in 1991. Playing guitar since 11, Danny has played with acts as diverse as Grandpa Jones and Johnny Gimble. Danny currently performs at multiple locations throughout Arkansas.

Micky Rigby is one of Arkansas' premier fingerstyle guitarists. An Oklahoma native Micky has been playing guitar for over 30 years and has developed an extensive repertoire of solo fingerstyle arrangements. An avid student of the instrument, Micky has studied with guitarists such as Roy Bookbinder, Ed Gerhard and Jorma Kaukonen.
